WEFTEC® IKE INSTRUCTIONS/GUIDELINES

Notice of Withdrawal

Immediately Upon Determination

If you do not wish to participate in WEFTEC Connect, we are asking you to email speakers@wef.org immediately with the author/speaker name, presentation title and time, and session number and title.

Speakers who choose not to give a virtual presentation will be able to re-submit their abstracts for WEFTEC 2021. The abstract will be placed in the pool of newly submit abstracts and will have to go through the review process again.

WEFTEC Connect Registration

July 13

If you wish to view sessions and/or participate in networking events you must register for WEFTEC Connect. To submit a pre-recorded presentation video, you do not need to register. We hope you will find value in all WEFTEC Connect offers including networking, speakers, access to exhibitors (new technologies), etc.

The easiest way to register and learn more is at <http://www.weftec.org/>.

Add/Modify Presenting Authors

August 14 9AM Eastern

You may have up to 2 people record a JOINT video of your presentation. You need to make sure that both names are reflected in the speaker portal and both have uploaded a bio, photo and have signed the presentation release. Or one presenter is fine as well. This is your opportunity to make modifications to whomever is the presenter. It just needs to be people associated with the writing of the paper (if applicable).

Speaker Introduction, Photo & Presentation Questions

August 25

Please enter an introduction (100 words or less) and photo. This information will be used in the virtual platform to help attendees learn more about the primary speaker.

Speakers must also provide 5 true or false quiz questions attendees should be able to answer after watching the presentation. These questions are important and will be used by WEF to obtain continuing education credits in the various states. Remember to provide the answers along with the submission of your questions.

All of this is key information and is REQUIRED.

Presentation Video Draft Upload

August 25

In Mid-August, the presentation management system will open for presentation submission. Moderators and WEF Staff will review presentation drafts and make sure it meets all the requirements. More detailed instructions will be sent to the presenting author in mid-July.

The final version of the presentations is due by September 9.

NOTE: We highly recommended uploading a draft to receive feedback. Once the final video presentations are uploaded to the presentation system, if a presentation does meet the requirements it will be pulled from WEFTEC Connect.

Presentation License Agreement

September 7

The Presenting Author(s) MUST sign a presentation release that is in the speaker portal. This is required to appear in WEFTEC Connect. This allows WEF to put your presentation in the system and share it with attendees. If you have questions, please contact mlinder@wef.org. The person that signs this must be the person that is recording the video and the uploading it. Once the video is uploaded and this is signed, nothing can be changed.

IKE VIDEOS

Video Creation and Guidelines:

Now that WEFTEC is virtual, this year will be a little different. Use the steps below to help ease the transition.

1. Create your video presentation in one of the formats meeting the guidelines below. (The max length of the video is 5 minutes.)
2. Imbed your video in one of the approved WEFTEC Connect formats (details coming shortly)
3. NEW*Provide an introduction for your video and a 3- 5-minute talk following your video presentation.

The Introduction

Your introduction should include your name, your company name, and your video title.

The Talk

Your 3-5-minute talk after the video should answer questions a co-worker or friend might have after watching the presentation. Sample questions include:

- Why did you make this video? What problem were you trying to solve?
- How successful was your solution?
- In 1 sentence, what should someone watching the video take away from it?
- Someone watches the video then turns to you asks “so what?” What do you say?

The IKE Committee is willing to watch your video and provide tailored questions for you to answer. The “talk” portion should not be a sales pitch or a how-to on creating a video but focus on the lesson learned.

Education First!

The purpose of IKE is to introduce attendees to the best and brightest ideas in our industry. IKE videos put the audience first and self-promotion last. Videos that are deemed to be “sales pitches” may be removed from the program. So, what is a sales pitch? A presentation that puts self-promotion first, lacks in technical details, and leaves the audience without a take-away.

Embrace....

- Case Studies: Show the audience where and how it has been used.
- The Theory Behind It: Our audience is smart and enjoys learning about the science behind your idea.
- Application: How it can be applied within the wastewater industry?
- Lessons Learned: Help the audience start at square two instead of square one.
- Show. Don't Tell: Illustrations and video of application in motion are the best way to get your message across.

Stay Away From...

- Hard Sales Pitches: “Buy our product because...”
- Product Placement: Showing labels and logos.
- Delivery Options: Shipping, etc.
- Cost to Buy: Different from comparative costs of technology, etc.

IKE Guidelines

- IKEs featuring a product must be informational rather than promotional. In other words, no sales pitches.
 - WEF reserves the right to remove “sales pitch” presentations from the program.
- Maximum of 5 minutes.
- Sound is required. We suggest between 55-60 decibels.
- Must be able to function with an approved WEFTEC Connect format
- Subjects shown in videos should have given the IKE producer permission or “informed consent”.
- WEF will not consider media it identifies as obscene, provocative, inaccurate, or otherwise containing objectionable content.
